DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-16, drawn to anhydrous, antiperspirant compositions comprising a skin-adhering system, antiperspirant active, thickening agent, and an anhydrous carrier, classified in class 424, subclasses 65 and 401.
- II. Claims 17 and 18, drawn to a method for inhibiting or preventing perspiration by topically applying to skin the anhydrous, antiperspirant composition, classified in class 424, subclasses 65 and 401.
- III. Claim 20, drawn to the method of making the anhydrous, antiperspirant composition comprising the step of providing a skin-adhering system, classified in class 424, subclass 65 and 401.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product. See MPEP § 806.05(h). In the instant case the method for inhibiting or preventing perspiration by topically applying an anhydrous, antiperspirant composition can be practiced with another materially different product, such as antiperspirants that are water-based. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Moreover, the searches in non-patent literature databases would be extensive and will not overlap thus presenting a search burden to be searched together. Thus, Inventions I and II have been appropriately restricted on the basis of being both independent or distinct and presenting a search burden on the Examiner if they were to be searched together.

Inventions I and III are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make another and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the composition of claim 1 can be made by another materially different process, such as performing different heating steps to dissolve the materials or by adding other antiperspirant additives. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. To search Inventions I and III would present a search burden on the examiner.

Inventions II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different designs, modes of operation, and effects (MPEP § 802.01 and § 806.06). In the instant case, the different inventions are drawn to a process of making the product and a process of using the product. These two inventions are distinct in that they are not capable of use together. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. To search Inventions II and III would present a search burden on the examiner.

Rejoinder

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

Conclusion to Restriction Requirement

Applicant is advised the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of an invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Due to the complex nature of the instant restriction requirement, a written restriction requirement was necessitated. See MPEP § 812.01.
